Brought the managers of the Decatur creamery sent to Chicago a tub of Decatur's golden butter and placed it on the market with Parliament & Export, commission merchants, No. 98 South Water street, to compete with other creamery butter. Decatur's butter sold quickly at the top notch, 29 cents a pound, and to-day the company received a draft in payment for the creamery product. P. & E. write: "Let your butter come along. We can do well for you." This is a good beginning and is convincing evidence that our creamery is as good as the best. Yesterday 200 pounds of nice butter were made at the creamery. The managers desire the REPUBLICAN to state that the creamery will pay 29 cents a gauge for cream during the month of November.

DECATUR TALENT.

A copy of the American Journalist, a monthly publication printed in St. Louis, has reached us. It gives a list of all the principal men connected with metropolitan dailies in its "Newspaper Directory." We notice that Lon H. Tupper, son of Mrs. Ansel Tupper, of this city, is put down as one of the chief reporters on the New York Morning Journal, and that Charles H. Dennis, son of Mr. Andrew Dennis, residing near the fair grounds, is on duty in the same department of the Chicago Daily News. Private information is to the effect that both young men are meeting with flattering success in their literary work. "Lon" is widely known in New York as a racy sketch writer, and his articles are never cast aside.

A Special Meeting.

A special meeting of the city council will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock, to take action with reference to building the new water main. A full attendance of all aldermen is desired.

Another Success.

The fourth annual ball given by the Cigar Makers' Union, at Guards' Armory, last night, was another social and financial success. It was attended by a large and merry company of dancers who were quite sociable and lingered until the close of the evening of pleasure. The music by the New Opera band was superb, and the management left nothing undone that would contribute in any way to the pleasure of the guests. Refreshments were had at several restaurants.

Conservatory of Music.

We learn that the Decatur Conservatory of Music have added another branch, or rather branches, to their repertoire of studies, viz., the guitar and banjo. We are glad to know that many persons will avail themselves of this opportunity now since instruction can be had from responsible teachers. Classes can be formed at any time. Pupils in this branch will be admitted to the Saturday free advantage.

Suit for Damages.

The case of Henry Bishop against the Indianapolis, Bloomington & Western railway to recover $25 for the loss of logs alleged to have been killed by trains of said company, has been on trial to-day before Justice Albert. The plaintiff is represented by J. C. Hostetter and the company by E. P. Vail. Mr. Bishop claims that about 25 of his logs have been killed by trains on this road at different times.

Information for Hunters.

Mr. F. Chandler, G. T. A. of the Missouri Pacific and Wabash, has issued a circular to the Missouri Pacific agents at points in the Indian Territory and to Iron Mountain agents, asking for particulars as to the game and fish to be found in the vicinity of each station, with questions as to express and post offices, local game laws, dealers in sporting goods, markets for game, and hotel and other accommodations for hunters. The information contained in the replies received will be carefully compiled for the use of the hunters and fishermen who patronize these two roads, and will be scattered abroad as inducements for sportsmen to travel via the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain lines in search of game.

Hunt Them Up.

Decatur is a growing city; it has more people now than it had a year ago, and, as a natural consequence, more people who are needy, and to whom a little assistance would be a valuable help. The winter is just here, and there are numbers of needy persons who would most gladly receive the out-of and half-worn clothing of their more fortunate neighbors, and would be greatly benefited by the timely help. Mr. Newell, the over-seer of the poor, is anxious to receive contributions of this kind, and will willingly attend to distributing to the worthy poor. Clothing for children is especially needed, though garments for grown persons are in demand and will be gladly received by the unfortunate, many of whom are needy through no fault of their own. Hunt over your wardrobe, therefore, and send what you can spare to Mr. Newell.

The Danville papers are more or less worried about Brother Harrison and his meetings. Bro. Jewell, of the News, who used to be a preacher himself of the Christian denomination, went to hear Harrison several times, and admits that he is a remarkable character and an effective evangelist. None of the papers attack him, as one journal did at Jacksonville.

JUDITH ANTHONY will take hold of the judicial reins in the county court next Monday, when those cases yet on the docket will be disposed of. The Special Drainage District case is one of the most important trials that will engage attention. The Boyce-Hork will reach an end this week—perhaps.

The not comedy of "Carrots," so named because of the carotid artery of the heroine's hair, was given last night before a small but well pleased audience. The play is a mountain piece of three acts, during which Miss Adah Richmond and Mr. R. E. Graham introduced the popular songs of the day. Both are fine actors, and kept the audience in fine humor. Mr. Rynne's Major Brown "from Virginia, Sir," was a part that took well and was faultlessly acted.

FERGUSON & DILLEHUNT have on hand the following named second-hand hard coal base burners: One "Splendid," one "Radiant Home," one "Dartmouth," one "Crown Jewel," and one "Good Luck." These will sell at very low prices. Call and see the stoves, at No. 125 North Water street. 25-44w

The Hunscher system of milling by Geo. Priest & Co., full and complete in all its details, makes the best flour ever sold in this city. Prices as low as any. April 10—44w

WHO KILLED ZURA BURNS?

The jury summoned by Coroner Boyden to investigate the mysterious murder of Zura Burns at Lincoln, after hearing some testimony this forenoon took another adjournment until Monday next at 9 o'clock.

THE TESTIMONY TO-DATE.
(Special to the REPUBLICAN.)
LINCOLN, Ill., Oct. 26, 1 p. m.—The jury in the Zura Burns case was in session this forenoon.

Miss Katie Madden, a servant girl in the employ of Mrs. Felt, testified that on Saturday night, Oct. 13, at about 7 o'clock she saw a strange girl standing near the office of the Carpenter elevator, seemingly waiting for somebody. The witness was unable to describe the appearance of the girl, except to say that she was a garment that looked like a gossamer.

A chambermaid from the Peoria house, Peoria, testified that a man and woman whom she did not know occupied rooms 50 and 51 at the Peoria house August 14 last, and that she saw the couple on the streets together. Couldn't identify the girl by the picture shown her. Didn't know anything of the conduct of the couple while at the hotel.

THIS LOOKS BAD.
Deputy Sheriff Cunningham was before the jury. He exhibited the register of the Peoria House, which showed that on August 14 "O. A. Carpenter and daughter" were registered and that one occupied room 50 and the other 51. Deputy Cunningham presented to the jury two hair pins that were found in Carpenter's buggy by Detective Butler, and the hair pin found in Zura Burns' dress pocket by Coroner Boyden, when he searched her garments, was also shown to the jury. Michael Lawler, a railroad engineer, testified that on Sunday night, Oct. 14, he saw a girl standing near the Carpenter elevator. She acted as though she was under the influence of liquor, for when he asked her what she was doing there, she replied, "I'm attending to my own business." Witness passed on and thought no more of the incident until next morning, when the body of Zura Burns was found in the lane. He thought the dead girl looked a little like the woman he spoke to the previous evening.

No further testimony was offered, and the jury adjourned to Monday next, when the investigation will be resumed.

The Chicago experts have not yet reported with reference to the alleged blood stains on the articles given to them to be examined.

A NEW TALE.
It is said that the clothing worn by Mr. Carpenter, on the day preceding the murder, cannot be found. The supposition among those who claim to be able to see through this grindstone of difficulty, is that they have been burned or otherwise destroyed. The outshines and walls about the Carpenter dwelling and elevator have been searched, but nothing has been found. Other places of concealment about town have been thoroughly searched, but with no result. The prosecution is being ably managed by Mr. Forrest, the State's Attorney, and he will not leave a stone unturned to fix the guilt upon the man who he believes committed the crime. Sheriff Wendell and his corps of assistants have also been untiring and have followed every clue brought to their notice. The officers who worked the case, and who, of course, know many little circumstances unknown to the police, do not hesitate to lay the crime at Carpenter's door. They are as positive to-day as they were during the first few days of the excitement.

Millinery Opening.
The grand opening of fashionable millinery and novelty goods at Mrs. M. L. McDonald's fashion emporium, on East Main street, commenced to-day, and will continue through to-morrow (Friday). The ladies should inspect the grand display, which is certainly one of the finest and most complete ever made in Decatur.

Mr. West, cashier for the Midland, has a class of a dozen pupils in the art of book-keeping, and instructions are given every Thursday evening in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. This arrangement was made by the association in order that the spare time of members may be profitably employed of evenings. There are several lady members of the class.

Two humorous and dramatic reader, Miss Mary Gable, of Philadelphia, will appear at the opera house on Oct. 30th, and give an entertainment under the auspices and for the benefit of the W. O. T. U. Admission, 25 and 35 cents. Reserved seats now on sale at Curtis & Co.'s. 25-44t

NOTHING.
It Costs You Nothing
To examine our new fall stock of Carpets, Wall Decorations, Oil Cloths, Rugs and Curtains. ASHL & LOCKE. 25-42w

The directory men have secured about all the names of residents of the city, but before making up copy for the printer will go over the city twice more and see that all changes are properly noted. The book will be a great deal larger and more reliable than any heretofore published, and therefore it will be doubly valuable.

Alumni Societies.
The H. S. Alumni society will be held at the high school building on Friday evening, Oct. 26th. All members of the association, the high school faculty, all the city teachers and everybody else cordially invited to be present. A musical and literary programme has been prepared for the occasion. 22-44t

We learn that David Hammer, the veteran harness dealer, who has been located in business near the tabernacle many years, will occupy one of the rooms in the Whitaker block, south of the Republican office, as soon as it is finished.

A large stock of boys' and misses' School Shoes at low prices, at Barber & Baker's. 10-18d

Through numerous causes may be made to turn the hair gray, all that is needed to restore the natural color is Hall's Vegetable Sillian Hair Renewer. For more than twenty years its sales have been enormous, and we have yet to learn of its first failure. 22

The Cincinnati Inquirer made the following mention of the border play to be given at the opera house, in Decatur, on Monday evening next: "There was scarcely a breath of room at Houli's last evening, the audience being one of the largest, if not the largest, ever in the building. Jesse James was the magnet. It was the play of that name that drew the immense throng, and they laughed, cheered and applauded until at times it seemed as if the walls would be shaken. The play is highly sensational. It is founded upon mostly imaginary incidents in the life of the notorious outlaw and is crowded with exciting scenes and thrilling situations. As one of the gallery gods observed last evening, at the conclusion of the performance, 'She's a jam up show.' The company is a good one. Mr. James Wallack, who impersonates the hero, is quite a clever actor, and as 'Kansas Jake,' Wash. Melville furnished any amount of fun. The two horses are noble animals, well trained, and provoke a great deal of interest in every scene in which they take part." Admission 35, 50 and 75 cents.

PERSONAL MENTION.

E. L. Ives, of Bloomington, is a guest at the St. Nicholas.

Thad P. Varney will give a dramatic performance at Assumption, to dedicate the G. A. R. hall.

Jacob S. Hand, of Clinton, was in the city yesterday and to-day visiting his brother and attending to business matters.

W. E. Dockson put up an elegant gift sign in front of his graphic print shop to-day.

T. Butterworth, representing the Western Agriculturalist, of Chicago, is at the New Denning.

Enos M. Henkle, of Springfield, has been in the city several days calling upon old friends.

C. H. Kopley, mustering officer, is entitled to a big gold medal. He has organized innumerable G. A. R. Posts within the past few months.

Bloomington Panograph: Mr. Hill, the manager of the Margaret Mather company, yesterday purchased of Hatfield Rounds a two-year-old bay stallion for $600.

Henry Flood will take his hay baling machine to Blue Mound this winter, and put up hay for the market. He says there is a great abundance of hay all over the county.

Wm. Dillon, who is engaged in the stair-building business at Quincy, arrived in the city last night, having been called here by the alarming illness of his mother.

Miss Maggie Stewart has been quite ill for several days with lung fever at the family residence, over the "Cheap Store," on Merolant street. She was some better to-day.

I. J. Loomis is in charge of the Oak Grove school, north of the fair grounds, where Mr. McMillan, of Forsyth, taught a part of the year. The county superintendent says he has a good joke on Mac.

Miss Ella Rice was at Springfield last evening, where she attended the marriage of Miss Mabel Wohlgemuth and Mr. S. P. V. Arnold, late editor of the Springfield Round Table.

Lewis Landrum, 25, and Miss Hattie Richardson, 24, both of Macon, were granted a license to marry to-day. The wedding will occur at Macon this evening at six o'clock. This is the prospective groom's birthday anniversary.

John Trainer attended a business meeting of county superintendents of schools at Springfield, yesterday, when a programme for the state meeting, to take place during the holidays, was prepared. Mr. T. got home last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Denning and son are soon to leave Decatur. They will probably locate for the winter at the Palace Hotel, at Springfield, where Mr. Denning will assist in the management of the house.

J. O. Halsey, special agent for the Manhattan Life Insurance company of New York, visited Decatur to-day, and called upon Dr. Ira B. Curtis, who has been re-appointed examining surgeon for the company. The company is to have a local agent.

Miss Mand Howe, the beautiful daughter of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, of Boston, is said to be engaged to Mr. J. B. McCullagh, editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. They met at Old Point Comfort last August. The belief that their nuptials are soon to be celebrated is strengthened by the rumor that Mr. McCullagh is furnishing in regal style his elegant residence at Kirkwood, one of the fashionable suburbs of St. Louis.

MARRIED.
In this city at the St. Nicholas hotel, Oct. 25, 1933, by Thomas B. Albert, J. P., Mr. JOHN LANDRUM, of Blue Mound, and Miss ELLA J. RICE, of Illinois, Ill.

In this city, on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 25, 1933, at the residence of Mr. J. J. Wilson, by Rev. W. H. Prestley, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Mr. EDWARD WILLS and Miss ANNA POWERS, both of Decatur.

The couple left for the west last evening, but will return after a brief absence. Mr. Wills is the active assistant baggage master at the Union depot, and has hosts of friends, as has also the bride, who is well known in this community, at Bloomington and in other cities.

DIED.
On the morning of Oct. 25, 1933, of typhoid pneumonia, at Dalton City, Robert HENSON, aged 62 years.
